DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the “inclined portion having a larger width than other portions of the side sealing portion” (claim 3) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered. It is noted that Fig. 2A only indicates the width portion (L1) for the projecting portion and the width portions (L2, L3) between the projecting portion and the adjacent cross sealing portions.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 3782

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese Document No. 11-108676 to Tomiyoshi et al. (hereafter, Tomiyoshi et al.) and Japanese Document No. 2001-48193 to Gomi (hereafter, Gomi).

Tomiyoshi et al. discloses the claimed device except for the side sealing portions being provided as a plurality of side sealing portions extending lengthwise of first and second elongated flexible sheets with a plurality of cross sealing portions spaced from each other lengthwise of the sheets. Gomi discloses that it is known in the art to provide a plurality of side sealing portions extending lengthwise of first and second elongated flexible sheets with a plurality of cross sealing portions spaced from each other lengthwise of the sheets to form an analogous pouch. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the side sealing portions Tomiyoshi et al. as a plurality of side sealing portions extending lengthwise of first and second elongated flexible sheets with a plurality of cross sealing portions spaced from each other lengthwise of the sheets, as suggested by Gomi, in order to successively manufacture a plurality of pouches.

As a note, the inclined portion (20a, 22a) of Tomiyoshi et al. has a width larger than the width of the projecting portion and the upper, cross sealing portion (20e, 22e), thus meeting the recitation "the inclined portion having a larger width than other portions of the side sealing portion".

In the alternative, Gomi discloses the claimed device except for the side sealing portions being provided with a plurality of projecting portions. Tomiyoshi et al. discloses that it is known in the art to provide projecting portions on an analogous pouch. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the side sealing portions of Gomi with the projecting portions of Tomiyoshi et al., in order to facilitate holding the pouch.

As a note, providing the side sealing portions of Gomi with the projecting portions of Tomiyoshi et al., as discussed above, would inherently provide a first wider width portion between each projecting portion and a first of the adjacent cross sealing portions, a narrower width portion at each projecting portion, and a second wider width portion between each projecting portion and a second of the adjacent cross sealing portions.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

7. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 714.02 and MPEP 2163.06. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
